

Evening Prayer

SATB a cappella

words by Thomas Ken (1637 – 1711)

music by Sheena Phillips

Thomas Ken's evening hymn is often sung to the tune of Tallis's Canon. Here it is given a new setting using a pentatonic melody and bell-like sonorities. First a soloist and then various sections of the choir sing the verses of the hymn, and the piece builds gradually from inward reflection, penitence, and supplication to ardent praise.

The passage sung by the sopranos in bars 111 – 134 is based on the traditional English bell-ringing pattern Stedman's Triples, and the tune of Tallis's Canon is rung out by the tenors and basses toward the end of the piece.

Evening Prayer

Glory to Thee, my God, this night,
For all the blessings of the light!
Keep me, O keep me, King of kings,
Beneath Thine own almighty wings.

Forgive me, Lord, for Thy dear Son,
The ill that I this day have done,
That with the world, myself, and Thee,
I, ere I sleep, at peace may be.

O may my soul on Thee repose,
And with sweet sleep mine eyelids close,
Sleep that may me more vigorous make
To serve my God when I awake.

When in the night I sleepless lie,
My soul with heavenly thoughts supply;
Let no ill dreams disturb my rest,
No powers of darkness me molest.

O when shall I, in endless day,
For ever chase dark sleep away,
And hymns divine with angels sing,
All praise to thee, eternal King?

Praise God, from Whom all blessings flow;
Praise Him, all creatures here below;
Praise Him above, ye heavenly host;
Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

Thomas Ken

Many editions of this text use the first line "All praise to Thee, my God, this night", but Thomas Ken himself preferred the version given here.

I have omitted one of the original verses.
